Excerpt: .Haufschmidt joined him as sponsors for Elizabeth, daughter of Jesse and Susanna Bond. The year 1793 found him continuing this activity as sponsor. First, he served with Elizabeth Setzer when Abraham, son of Michael Setzer and wife, was baptized, and later on with Susanna Heller when Susanna, daughter of John and Catharine Kelgert was christened. The Hamilton Township girls presenting too many difficulties in the way of a choice he not only left the township but also the state when he finally selected his bride. Just below the Water Gap was the town of Dill s Ferry, now called Portland. The ferry was owned by at least two generations of Dills, some of whom lived on the Jersey and some on the Pennsylvania side of the Delaware. Rachael Dills was born October 13th, 1776, and married George Keller October 20th, 1794. The available information about her family is contained in the chapter on The Dills of New Jersey. The first time we read of Rachael in the Hamilton Church records is on the 15th of April, 1795, when she and her husband, George, bring little Johannes to the church to be baptized. The pastor, apparently unfamiliar with her name, spelled it Ragul. The next child, Maria, born November 21, 1798, was baptized on Christmas day, 1798, probably at the Plainsfield church. We find the record of this christening in the records of the First Reformed Church of Easton of which church the Plainfield church...
